Boycotts Will Not Cut Prices Says Food Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national supermarket spokesman says food prices can be reduced substantially only if stores cut out services he says the public demands.

But in Portland, Ore., a leader of a housewives organization planning to picket 170 stores says it would be fine to eliminate some of those services.

Elsewhere, there was scattered evidence that the burgeoning housewife revolt against high prices was inching ahead.

Clarence G. Adams, president of the National Association of Food Chains, said Monday in Washington he sees no chance that housewife boycotts will bring lower food prices.

"Prices could only be cut substantially," he said, "by short-cutting the things that housewives are demanding — and that's a considerable amount, maybe 6, 7, 8 or 9 per cent."

Mrs. Val Jensen, secretary of Portland Women for Lower Prices, said stores could cut prices 10 per cent by remaining open fewer hours, closing Sundays and cutting out games, stamps and special promotions.

Adams claimed that chains make an average profit of 1.3 per cent and spend 2 per cent on advertising and promotion.

"Passing of both profits and advertising and promotion costs back to consumers in the form of across-the-board price reductions would give shoppers a 3.3 per cent decrease in prices, or about 33 cents on a $10 purchase," he said.

"And eventually this would force the stores out of business," he added.

Johnson Tells Troops Confronting Reds In Korea, 'Keep Chin Up'

CAMP STANLEY, Korea (AP) — "Keep your chin up and your chest out — we are proud of you and I came here to tell you so," President Johnson today told American troops confronting the Communists in Korea.

The President traveled by train and helicopter into the rugged South Korean countryside to pay tribute to Korean and American troops guarding the 151-mile border with Communist North Korea.

Speaking earnestly and in a low voice Johnson in an off-the-cuff speech told the troops 20 miles south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea, they were "doing a mighty good job" of protecting freedom in the United States and many parts of the world. He said no matter what they may read about anti-Viet Nam demonstrators or draft card burners, the great bulk of Americans are like them — standing up for freedom.

Johnson began his second day in South Korea with an hour's meeting with President Chung Hee Park. They discussed Viet Nam, where South Korea has 45,000 troops, and Park's request for more U.S. funds to equip troops to replace them at home.

After their talk, Johnson and Park drove through cheering, flag-waving crowds to take a special train for a 19-mile ride to the headquarters of the 20th Korean Infantry Division and nearby U.S. Camp Stanley.

While Johnson was out in the country, Mrs. Johnson presented the city of Seoul with a seedling from the White House grounds, visited gardens and art works and received a citation from Ewha University, whose 8,000 students make it the largest women's university in the world.

The U.S. President and his wife leave for Alaska Wednesday.

Police Arrested 24,202 In Sept.
LANSING (AP)—State Police reported Monday making 24,202 arrests during September — all but 1,900 of them for traffic offenses. Officers also apprehended 874 juvenile traffic violators and 562 delinquent minors.

Troopers reported assisting 7,164 motorists, investigating 11,480 cars, making 14,079 property inspections and giving 25,374 oral warnings to drivers.

Department vehicles traveled more than 2 million miles, about 1.25 million while on traffic patrol.

Michigan Bell's Pact Rejected
DETROIT (AP)—Communications workers rejected a proposed contract with Michigan Bell Telephone Co. by a vote of 7,616 to 4,825, a ballot count showed Monday.

Officials of Bell and the Communications Workers of America said they were willing to resume negotiations quickly.

Rejection of the proposed 36-month contract, a pact Bell estimated would have cost the company $10 million a year, came in a small ballot. Results were announced today by the Detroit accounting firm, Ernst and Ernst.

Wayne R. Osborn, chairman of Bell's negotiating team and assistant Bell vice president, said the rejected proposal would have given the firm's 17,000 employees "the biggest wage and fringe benefit package ever negotiated by Michigan Bell and the Communications Workers of America."

Walter R. Schaer, vice president of the union's District 4, called for workers to remain on their jobs on a day-to-day basis as contract talks resume.

He attributed rejection of the agreement to dissatisfaction with an 18-month wage response clause and failure to reclassify some communities to higher wage brackets.

Soviet Party's Chief Appeals For Peace Aid

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev appealed today for international cooperation for peace. He made only a brief attack on U. S. action in Viet Nam and omitted the usual mention of Communist terms for ending the war.

This seemed significant to some observers in Moscow because of recent unconfirmed reports that the Soviet leadership is seeking a way to end the Vietnamese war.

Brezhnev spoke in Tbilisi, capital of Soviet Georgia. His speech was televised.

Brezhnev accused the United States of "criminal aggression in Viet Nam." But he did not elaborate on this as major Soviet speakers usually have done in past months. Instead the general secretary of the Soviet Communist party criticized Red China's Communist party and its government leaders for refusing to join with Soviet bloc countries in aid to North Viet Nam.

The Soviet Union "will further render all-round aid and support to struggling Viet Nam," Brezhnev declared.

"We are firmly convinced," he said, "that cooperation in the interests of peace and international security is also possible with those Western governments and political and public figures who look soberly on the international situation and who are ready to follow in practice the principles of the peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems."

The United Nations, he continued, "can and must find the strength to become a useful instrument of peace."

Cong Shells Fail To Disrupt S Viet Fete

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong unleashed an artillery bombardment on the center of Saigon today in a spectacular but unsuccessful attempt to disrupt South Viet Nam's National Day observances.

Six Vietnamese and one American were known dead. Conflicting reports listed up to six more killed but these reports could not be verified. The one American known dead was a Navy officer.

At least 30 Vietnamese and five Americans were wounded in the bombardment, the first time the Viet Cong shelled the capital with mortar and recoilless rifle fire.

The Viet Cong hurled 24 rounds of 75mm recoilless rifle fire in and around the parade route, U.S. military headquarters said. Vietnamese authorities reported mortar shells also struck during the shelling.

The bombardment hit Saigon's Roman Catholic cathedral, a Catholic school, the John F. Kennedy Square, the Saigon central market and the French-built Grall Hospital, the biggest in the capital.

Parade Continues
The bombardment, first of its kind by the Viet Cong against Saigon, failed to interrupt the massive parade marking the third anniversary of the overthrow of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

For two hours and 20 minutes, soldiers of the South Vietnamese armed forces and the six nations allied with them paraded before tens of thousands of leading Vietnamese and foreign dignitaries.

U.S. military headquarters said the shelling came from a point 3 1/2 miles southeast of Saigon near An Khanh Ka. Six U. S. gunship helicopters closed in on the area and artillery spotter planes were aloft. A ground force of allied troops also swept the area but the Viet Cong gunners apparently escaped.

U. S. headquarters announced that three Viet Cong were captured near the parade grounds at Kennedy Square. A spokesman said they were armed with grenades and small arms. A Vietnamese spokesman said four more Viet Cong, armed with grenades and weapons, were seized in the vicinity of the parade route.

Prepare Leaflets
The U. S. psychological warfare section set to work immediately to prepare leaflets to be dropped from the air over both North and South Viet Nam. A spokesman said the leaflets would decry the "murder of the innocents" and point out "the desperation of the Viet Cong in seeking to revive its flagging prestige."

He said printing of the leaflets would start Wednesday and would carry a photograph of a woman killed in the central market square by the shelling.

Fearing more terrorist incidents, U.S. authorities put the capital off limits to American servicemen.

Edited Version Of Vote Debate On WLUC Issue

By The Associated Press
Democratic gubernatorial candidate Zolton Ferency charged Monday that Gov. George Romney "attempted to intimidate" a television station manager into canceling a paid Democratic program.

Ferency accused Romney of trying "to enforce an information blackout in the gubernatorial campaign."

The Democratic state chairman said Romney sent a telegram to Elroy Strand, general manager of WLUC-TV in Marquette, in regard to a 20-minute film based on a two-hour debate between Romney and Ferency.

The telegram told Strand: "Expect you will consider carefully any showing of such a program inasmuch as the debate consumed two hours and any edited version for partisan purposes would undoubtedly misrepresent the content of the full debate."

Ferency said the telegram was signed: "Governor Romney, Lansing."

Ferency said Strand first canceled the 45-minute paid program, which included the tape, and a half hour later Monday took back his stand.

Temporarily Canceled
Strand said he "temporarily canceled" the program and this was not necessarily the result of Romney's telegram.

A spokesman for Romney said the telegram was not an attempt to "intimidate" Ferency's program.

The program was to be broadcast this afternoon.

The telegram attributed to Romney also said the governor wrote Monday to August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president, protesting the proposed television use of the edited version of the debate with Ferency.

The debate was sponsored by the Committee on Political Education of the AFL-CIO.

Romney in U. P.
Romney today campaigned in Upper Michigan with Sen. Robert P. Griffin and other Republican candidates in their three-day airplane "blitz."

The group hop-scotched through 10 Michigan cities on Halloween night, warning voters to watch out for tricky Democrats offering political treats.

The Republicans' 12-hour day began before a crowd of 500 University of Michigan students at Ann Arbor. But at each of their subsequent stops in the Lower Peninsula, 40 to 100 persons met Romney and Griffin at airport rallies.

Romney attacked Griffin's opponent, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Bill Of Rights
"Do you want for a senator a man best known for cosponsoring the workman's bill of rights, or for a green polka dot bow tie?" he asked. Romney lauded Griffin as a coauthor of the Landrum-Griffin Labor Act of 1959.

Williams, meanwhile, called Monday for restraint by labor and management to halt rising prices.

He said the Johnson Administration and Congress must curtail spending if the nation is "to contain rising prices while insuring that the forward momentum of our economy is not impeded."

Position Paper
In a position paper, Williams called for:

—Increased manpower training to ease skilled labor shortages.

—Selective release of strategic materials to fill gaps between supply and demand.

—Examination of import quotas to insure they do not contribute to inflation or shortages.

—Selective, temporary export restrictions on materials in short supply.

—Increased relaxation of farm acreage restrictions to boost farm income and production.

Harnischfeger Corp. announced today that it was doubling the size of its Monticello, Ind., welding products plant. More than 100 additional job opportunities will be created by the expansion. The plant presently employs about 150 persons.

Harnischfeger operates another welding electrode plant in Leola, Penn., and welding machine plants in Charlottesville, Va., and Escanaba. Production at these locations will not be affected.

The D.U.S. Story:

Child Society Aids Delta Kids

One of the new agencies participating in the 1966-67 Delta United Services drive is the Michigan Children's Aid Society.

Function of the society is care of dependent and neglected children in the state, except for Wayne County. The program is accomplished through casework services, including a program of foster care, adoption and service to unmarried mothers.

Work is designed primarily for the benefit of children. The foster care services include temporary care of both dependent and neglected children. Foster homes are selected, approved and supervised by the society and licensed by the state. Children may be accepted for care upon commitment of a court or referral from other agencies or individuals. In Delta County last year 17 children were under foster care.

In adoption work, the society's caseworkers evaluate adoptive parents and the child. Delta County had five adoptive home studies and five placements last year.

Service to unmarried mothers — and sometimes fathers — is rendered for the sake of the baby and also to help the parent or parents adjust. Delta County had nine unwed mothers last year.

Wertz Heads Kiwanis

Press And Public Urged To Unite

W. H. Treloar, publisher of the Panax newspapers in the Upper Peninsula, told Escanaba Kiwanians at their luncheon meeting at Marco's Monday that in today's complexity of communications, people must work at being informed if they're to be fully useful citizens.

The club elected new officers at the meeting, including Donald Wertz, president; William Mulvaney, vice president; Arol Beck, second vice president. New directors are Manley Anderson, Luther Barrett, Walter Lewke, Robert Snow, Rev. Robert Selberg, Rev. Stephen Mayrand and William Winkler.

Treloar said "in the weird and wonderful world of communications, duties and responsibilities are imposed on us (newspapers) that informed and responsible citizens should also accept. We are the products and children of change, but sometimes we don't realize the speed at which the world is changing."

"It was 5,000 years from the wheel to the steam engine, 140 more to the plane, 40 years from the plane to the atom bomb and 12 years from the bomb to Sputnik."

"Aerial laboratories expect to almost neutralize the law of gravity so planes can fly with half the weight and a quarter of the fuel used now, and we had always thought that gravity was an immutable law. Social and economic changes are upon us before we realize them. We talk about watching out for inflation when we're in the middle of it."

"We must work at being informed. Things which are right today are not necessarily right tomorrow. We should as citizens form a partnership with the press, we resolving to be as informed as we can and you being as informed as you can. Informed citizens who know about changes can help shape reaction for community benefits."

Cite Need For Highway Funds

Proposed increases in the state gas tax and license plate fee would give Michigan's cities and counties an additional $65 million a year to make needed road and street improvements, reports State Highway Director Howard E. Hill.

Speaking at the dedication of a new bridge near Alma, Hill said counties and cities are falling behind in their efforts to provide adequate streets and roads for local traffic.

"Michigan's 83 counties and 520 cities and villages now receive $135 million annually from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund," Hill said.

"Most of this income must be spent to maintain Michigan's more than 100,000 miles of county roads and city and village streets."

"A two-cent increase in the state gas tax along with a moderate increase in license plate fees would increase the amount of money available to counties and cities to about $190 million annually."

The Highway Department, Hill said, would receive an additional $50 million to spend for highway construction if the proposed tax increase are approved by the State Legislature.

"Most of the Highway Department's additional revenue would be spent to provide adequate traffic ways in and near cities and on non-freeway routes in rural areas," he said. Hill said Michigan's county road commissions and city and village street departments "are doing an excellent job" with the funds they have available.

"But they're in the same boat we are," he said, referring to the State Highway Department. "We will not be able to meet our highway needs unless we have adequate funds with which to build new highways and modernize old ones."

Erlandsen & Varnum

An Escanaba woman was told recently by Charles Varnum of Manistique, campaigning for election as representative of the 107th District in the State Legislature, that if she voted incumbent Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Escanaba) out of office he would still be getting as much money on a legislator's pension as Varnum gets as a school teacher.

The issue may seem extraneous to the voters, who don't elect legislators in order to provide them with pensions. But Varnum wanted voters to know that they wouldn't be turning his opponent out into a cold world with winter coming on if they favored him for election.

Varnum has lots of push or he wouldn't have tackled Erlandsen, who is seeking his 10th term in the Legislature. He has served there for 18 years and the Legislature has changed a heck of a lot in that period and the district that Erlandsen represents has changed even more. He will be seeking election for the second time in the 107th District, which embraces parts of Delta, Schoolcraft, Luce and Chippewa counties. Before that he represented only Delta County and that was much easier because Delta has elected only one Republican to county office since 1932.

The Legislature's change brought the Democrats into power and his long seniority made Erlandsen chairman of the House Ways & Means Committee, which is the chief pucker string on the state's purse in the Lower House. It is being urged that Erlandsen be retained in the House because of his committee leadership, which is supposed to open the treasury to his home district, but the U. P.'s most impressive money getter at Lansing is not Erlandsen but State Senator Joe Mack of Ironwood, who got a $1.4 million special appropriation through the Legislature to build a road to a mine in Ontonagon County.

The lesson here, we suggest, is not that we should try to get Delta County into Joe Mack's district, but that the simple circumstance of important committee chairmanship — while it puts a representative near the state's safe — does not assure the biggest piece of legislative swag. Erlandsen, in fact, chided Mack for his treasury raid and said he was spoiling the downstate image of the U. P. legislators. The Detroit Free Press called them the U. P. Mafia.

Erlandsen has been unable to date to do anything about the deteriorating condition of the U. P. State Fair plant in his home city, except plan, all projects for a new exhibition building having ended in defeat. But he has helped shepherd appropriations for the State Office Building in Escanaba to the point of planning for enlargement of the facility and creation of a combined U. P. laboratory there to serve the State Department of Agriculture and the State Department of Health. And he has obtained a substantial appropriation for development of Fayette State Park.

We wish that he had more breadth of judgment than he showed in his ill-advised backing of an osteopathic college of medicine at Pontiac as a state-supported institution.

He has also shown a parochialism in his unbending opposition to liberal county home rule, which means only the people's right to govern themselves in an effective way within the authority granted by the state. Erlandsen's view is that the people keep control of their county government when they elect so many of its officials, but the informed view is that they do not really know what's going on in county government; that it is headless as now constituted and that its officials are not really responsive to the electorate.

Erlandsen has been a friend of education throughout his legislative career. It is the best feather in his political headdress. He has been cited for his aid to Education by the Michigan Education Association, but Northern Michigan University, seeking appropriations for expansion, has not been as happy with him.

Erlandsen has courage. He used some of it in his early work to revive mineral industry in the Upper Peninsula, when some of his party colleagues were hanging back for fear the needed mineral tax reform would be unpopular with labor. But he didn't brave the wrath of sportsmen by backing the Conservation Department in unpopular but well conceived game management policies.

This is the inevitable fate of the legislator. He can only hope for a good average in legislation, never for solid public approval on all issues. Erlandsen's service at Lansing has been capped by his leadership in helping create the Legislative Service Bureau, of which he is vice chairman. It is a new agency which provides a staff for state legislators to use in preparation of legislation. No longer are they dependent upon lobbyists with special interests to plead for researching of proposed legislation.

He has been at his job as a legislator so long that he obviously has a much different view of it than does young Chuck Varnum, his challenger, who accuses him of having delayed action on elimination or reduction of Mackinac Bridge tolls until it was too late. (The tight money squeeze made the legislation useless at this time.) Varnum would use a part of the gas tax to retire the bridge debt and make it toll free. We have here the familiar contest between the man with a long legislative record and a challenger with none. In this instance the challenger is an aggressive young man who has much more public office experience than Erlandsen had when he went to Lansing for the first time.

Varnum is a city councilman, county supervisor, and member of the Michigan State Athletic Board of Control. A school teacher, he has visited 15,000 homes, he estimates, in his campaign. It is an impressive gauge of how hard he would work in office.

The greatest difference between the men is probably their age. Erlandsen is 58 and Varnum is 33. At this time that's a whale of a difference, measured backward to influences that bear on a legislative outlook.

Woodcock Likes Neglect

By LEE SMITS

Could we agree on Michigan's most beautiful bird? Or would there be too many fixed opinions? The list of entries would include hummingbirds, wood duck, evening grosbeak, cardinal, goldfinch, indigo bunting, and on and on. Certainly among the entries would be the woodcock.

Nothing flashy, nothing startling in the plumage of this unique game bird. The rich shades, exquisite pattern, the restrained good taste of the woodcock's attire are unmatched in the feathered fashion show.

Woodcock has its odd shape to overcome: bug-eyes on top of its head, stubby body, ridiculous long bill. But like a plump duchess turned out by an expensive Parisian couturiere, Madame Woodcock is smart, chic, unostentatious, patrician.

The lady woodcock is more conspicuous than her mate because there is more of her. She will weigh as much as half a pound. She is something of a hussy, too, not waiting to be courted, but seeking out a male bird that is delicately soliciting attention by singing, on the ground and in the air, in the trysting place of his choice, a little clearing in a swampy area.

So much of wildlife news is bad news that it is pleasing to have optimistic reports of Michigan woodcock. Probably no other local game bird has ever had a newspaper supplement issued in its honor, and this supplement is altogether cheerful in tone. John F. Weber, editor and publisher of the Montmorency County Tribune, prepared a woodcock biography.

In an editorial, he asks whether a special early season isn't in order, to harvest local birds that have headed south before Oct. 1, since all signs point to an increase in woodcock, most of which succumb to natural hazards between one nesting season and the next.

Wholesale banding operations, plus checks of local singing grounds, have made it possible to keep a fairly accurate census record of woodcock. Hunters are asked to turn in woodcock wings, which give an index to sex and age. Records show that Michigan is the number one woodcock state in the north, with an estimated kill of more than 100,000 out of the annual national total of 900,000 woodcock bagged.

In his woodcock supplement, John Weber has a large-scale map of Montmorency County, with choice woodcock grounds colored red. These red areas, on public lands, indicate some of the best woodcock cover in North America.

Woodcock stay put ahead of a dog's nose. Don't sneak away. They aren't too easy to shoot, as they spring up and weave off through low tree tops. Some dogs refuse to retrieve woodcock, but will point dead reliably.

Woodcock on the table is a special treat for the gourmet. It has a more distinctive taste than grouse. In Britain the tradition prevailed to dress woodcock merely by removing head, feet and feathers. The innards were believed to improve the flavor of the cooked bird.

Credit for woodcock material and for some of the excellent photographs in the Tribune supplement is given to Thomas R. Prawdzik, game habitat biologist with the Department of Conservation, stationed at Atlanta, Tom, while he was in the department headquarters at Marquette, was responsible for the outstanding woodcock hunt of a lifetime. A premature gust of winter had hit the Upper Peninsula when I alighted at the airport there was snow on the ground, puddles were frozen and I gave up all thought of woodcock shooting. Kenneth S. Lowe, editor of the Marquette Mining Journal — who is highly knowledgeable in outdoor matters — agreed with me that all rational woodcock had left for Louisiana. But Tom Prawdzik just smiled.

With Ken's setter we wheeled out of town and in half an hour were in the midst of woodcock. Tom knew all the little spring-fed feeder streams that kept alder thickets from freezing. He knew the breeding grounds, the fledgling routes, the angworm cafeterias of three counties.

Along the Escanaba River Ken's dog kept finding birds on one side of the Escanaba River while we were on the opposite bank. Tom Prawdzik solved this by discarding pants and shoes and wading too and fro, shooting a bird or two meanwhile.

Few Michigan hunters concentrate on woodcock. Woodcock are most often killed, incidentally, by grouse shooters. John Weber, of the Montmorency Tribune, is under the spell of the brownie of the creek bottoms, the acrobat of the alders. The Tribune supplement will guide Montmorency County gunners to the precise patches of soggy earth where woodcock will be waiting until the freeze-up.

There are some good duplicate players who can't seem to win at rubber bridge. One reason may be that they concentrate too much on trifles but a more likely reason is that they get on the wrong side of swing hands.

An extra 30 points may mean a top score in duplicate play. It takes 50 such scores to balance one 1500 point swing.

South's one heart overcall was correct strategy in either duplicate or rubber bridge. It seldom pays to try to takeout double with a two suit hand. Once in awhile you find yourself playing at one but nearly all the time someone keeps the bidding alive for you.

At his next turn to bid, South felt sure that he could make a heart slam against a club lead. It looked as if his partner would hold the ace of diamonds as part of his jump to three hearts but the game was rubber bridge and South did not want to have his opponents to save in spades. He merely bid four hearts.

West gave one spade raise. He held no high cards but he did have mighty good support for spades. North passed. He had told his full story and possibly a trifle more when he bid three hearts. South bid five hearts. East doubled that but West took it out. North doubled that but South continued to the six hearts he had been heading for all along.

East should really have bid six spades and taken a sure moderate loss but East was looking at two ace-king-queen suits. He doubled again!

If West had led a spade South would have been down one but West had no way to know that South was void of clubs.

BEAUTY

After reading your editorial entitled, "Protecting No. 1" that appeared in the Sept. 15 issue of the Escanaba Daily Press, I asked our design people for their comment on the editorial.

They are aware that we have been criticized for relocating M 95 in Marquette County along the west edge of Witch Lake.

At first observation, they say, this criticism may seem justified. However, the presence of deep muck which is not visible to the casual observer is responsible for the location of this new highway.

They tell me it was not possible to modernize M 95 to present standards on the existing old road location without destroying the old road and causing possible damage to the railway. This railway prevented a shift to the west and the only possible location was to move out into the small arm of the lake. The final location was influenced by muck storage areas displaced by the new road fill and also minimizing the damage to a gas station, home and cabins on the south side of the lake.

The Highway Department is striving to build beautiful highways in harmony with nature. However, all new construction does some damage. Even when building something as beautiful as a park, nature has to be adjusted to fit the needs of the people. It is regrettable that any of the lake had to be disturbed. However, to provide a safe modern highway, this relocation of M 95 was necessary. The elevation and gentle curvature of the new highway provide a magnificent view of the lake for the traveling public.

Tom Farrell, Director
 Public Information Office
 State Highway Dept.

I agree that too many marriages are in pathetic shape, and for just the reasons you mention. I agree, too, that some of our teen-agers could use firmer discipline. Nonetheless, I thank you for giving my readers something to think about.

The trouble is, the ones who OUGHT to think about it won't. The following letter is not offered in rebuttal, but rather as another point of view.

Dear Ann Landers: I am getting sick to death of reading articles called, "The Dominating Wife," "The Lady Wears The Pants" and "What has Happened To Man's Role In Our Society?"

Please tell me what can a wife do when her husband simply cannot make a decision? Somebody in the family must get things done if things are going to GET done. In our family I'm the one who must do it.

My husband is a lethargic, indecisive guy who drifts along from day to day. If a bill does-

Dear Ann Landers: I have n't get paid, he could care less. The house has been falling apart for two years and he hasn't even noticed. Although he is a carpenter by trade he has yet to pick up a hammer around here. I have to hire a mar. to make all the repairs or make them myself.

The only thing my husband does on his own—with no producing—is drink. He is gassed every weekend.

I hope you will print my letter because I am sure there are millions of other women who are in the same fix.—THANKS FOR LISTENING

Dear Thanks: I've always contended that people find each other for a reason. Now you know the reason he found you. Or did you find HIM, the doll?

Generally speaking, wives who are the movers and shakers in the family were that way before they married. And they went out and found a man who needed to be both moved and shaken.

UP Summer Theater Urged

The effort to provide summer theater in the Upper Peninsula as an attraction for tourists was reviewed at the recent meeting of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association at Bessemer and it set up a U. P. wide meeting in the House of Ludington, Escanaba, for 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday, Nov. 7 to consider the subject in depth.

The Bessemer meeting also stressed that if the U. P. is to have live theater next summer commitments must be made now to provide it.

James Gooch, U. P. director of continuing education for Michigan State University, called the Escanaba meeting. He asked all communities interested in the project to send representatives.

MSU Will Aid
The planning has suggested that summer theater be provided once a week for 10 weeks next summer in as many as six locations in the U. P. The theater company would tour with a different play each week.

Frank Rutledge of the Speech Department of MSU and Vance Paul attended the Bessemer meeting. Paul directed the summer theater at Indianhead Mountain ski resort last summer.

Rutledge said that at Berea, Ky., in Appalachia he was interested to see the area business that had been generated by presentation of the historical play "Wilderness Road" which retells the drama of Daniel Boone and other pioneers in the opening of the west.

The success of theaters at Stratford, Ont., Aspen, Colo., the Black Hills Playhouse of the University of North Dakota, Carolina's Outer Banks theater and the success of the music programs at Interlochen, Mich., were cited.

"The value of theater for the Upper Peninsula," said Rutledge, "would be not only for visitors but for people who live here. Most of you are of an age group who don't know about the theater in terms of enriching life or opening up the imagination. And your children don't, either. It's as though you couldn't read."

Free Enterprise Gains In Aid To Emerging Nations
ANN ARBOR (AP) — Chrysler Corp. president Lynn A. Townsend said people of underdeveloped nations are beginning to see the superiority of a free enterprise system and are turning toward it in a quiet revolution.

Townsend spoke before a regional convention of Alpha Kappa Psi, a professional business fraternity here. He was initiated an honorary member.

"By its efficiency in providing for the needs of free people everywhere," Townsend said, "our business system is forcing the destruction of the inefficient and tyrannical system of controls used by the Communists."

Townsend added, "What we need is to find better ways of communicating this message to more and more people."

"Business investment in foreign countries, many of them as yet underdeveloped, was more than double that sent over by the government in economic foreign aid."

"As a result of these private investments, other countries are developing their own business system, improving the living conditions of their own people, creating jobs, balancing their economies to the point of self-sufficiency," he said.

Government is spending a lot to teach us to read and if you can read you can imagine. The theater can provide that. It is an important attribute of growing up and of living, and at present the U. P. and Lower Michigan north of Clare are without theater. There is plenty of theater in Detroit, Lansing and Battle Creek, but none in the north. We are concerned about making it available.

"We don't think the U. P. as a geographical area can be strictly an outdoorman's place to go. Other values than being out-of-doors are needed."

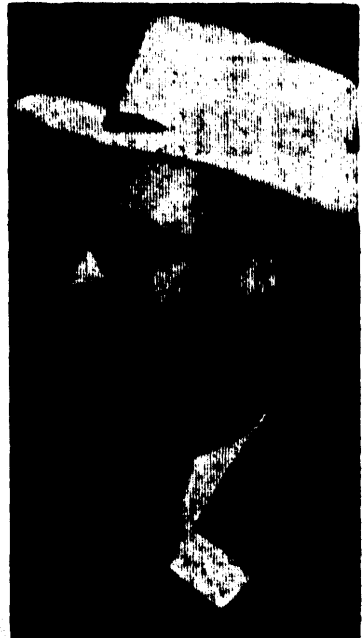

"There is no sure method anywhere for theater. Variety says that in New York plays are a 40 to 1 shot. They're speculative. They could cost a lot of money but I'm convinced that with travel and emphasis on children's education that there will be more travelers who will be interested in theater and the arts."

Schleicher started with Harnischfeger in 1941, transferring to Escanaba in 1961 as foreman in the Stephenson Ave., welding products plant. He is presently general supervisor of plant services. ## U Of M Seeks $74.6 Million

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan asked the state Monday to give it 26 percent more money—$74.6 million—for the 1967-68 school year.

U-M's annual budget request, filed with Gov. George Romney's office, seeks a $74.6 million state appropriation.

This was compared with the $58.1 million the Legislature appropriated for U-M's current academic year.

The university said it will need $6.9 million of the proposed increase just to maintain the current level of services. This would cover increases in costs of wages, services and materials, U-M said.

Predicting that its enrollment will rise by 2,245 students to a total of 26,307, U-M said it will need an extra $5.9 million to keep pace with the increase.

More than $4.3 million to additional money was asked for renovating of old classrooms and other facilities.

U-M said it also needs an extra $63,200 to launch three special programs into operation. They would be institutes for labor-industrial relations, cancer research and international commerce.

The governor's office is expected to take the U-M request under study before presenting it to the next session of the Legislature.

Photographer Frans Kuula

Aims For Deer, Gets Coyote

Frans Kuula, Rock body bumping shop operator who has provided the Escanaba Daily Press with some fine deer pictures, was at the job again last Friday night, watching four deer in his orchard for a good photographic opportunity when suddenly the deer bounded out of the orchard in great fright.

The reason for their hasty exodus stood there among the apples—a coyote!

Kuula was fearful that the plains wolf would not come closer if he waited, so he fired his flash camera and made the accompanying picture.

"That coyote went up in the air as though I'd shot it with a rifle, when I fired my camera flash," said Kuula. "I could have made $15 (bounty on a male) or $30 (bounty on a female) if I'd shot the coyote, but I wanted to make a picture of him and there it is."

Kuula, an ardent hunter who is often at odds with the game biologists, said "in the past few weeks many coyotes have been shot by bird hunters. This season grouse are very scarce in Delta County due to these killers."

"The conservation officials at Lansing wish to discontinue the bounty on coyotes as they state the bounty system does not do any good."

"If bounty hunters kill 1,000 female coyotes with 7 pups to a litter—and they have as many as 14—it would mean 7,000 coyotes a year destroyed by the bounty hunters each year. Seven thousand coyotes kill a large number of our small game."

Conservation Department Biologist Joseph Vogt of Escanaba said, when informed that Kuula reported that he had seen 8 coyotes in a week in the Rock area: "It shows the result of the bounty system."

"We still pay bounties on coyotes," said Vogt. "We've had them for many years. The bounty hunters just crop the surplus. There is a good, healthy, stationary coyote population. We have noticed no change in the number of coyotes turned in for bountying."

The state has removed the bounties on bobcats and it now protects timber wolves, which were once bountied. Vogt said that Al Harger, the game biologist at Cuino, recently made a cast of the footprint of a large wolf.

St. Joe Carnival Enjoyed By All

The St. Joseph School Halloween Carnival held Monday night in the church basement was a great success. Various games and booths were set up for the enjoyment of the children and candy and cupcakes were also sold during the evening.

Prizes were awarded to Lynn Ann Beuchamp, for the prettiest costume and Rensner Theisen, for the funniest costume. Co-chairmen for the carnival were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Courter and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ricci.

THIS IS THE flash picture which Frans Kuula made of a coyote in the orchard at his Rock home. He shot the picture from a window.

Children's Book Week Being Observed Here

With the 47th celebration of National Children's Book Week getting underway with this year's slogan, "Books Please!", Escanaba Public Library will join in the acknowledgement of this event. This year, the week is being celebrated from Oct. 30 until Nov. 5.

Began in 1919 by Franklin K. Mathews, a writer of books for boys, and Frederic G. McCher, a publisher and editor, this event has become a national event of great importance to boys and girls.

In 1919, there was only one children's book editor in the publishing business. Today, nearly 70 of them supervise the selection of books for children to be published. In 1919, only 500 new children's books were published. Today, nearly 2,000 are put out a year.

National Children's Book Week calls attention to this wealth of books, and reminds parents, teachers, and boys and girls of all they are offered in this field. Escanaba Public Library will display samplings of new books for boys and girls of all ages this week.

The public is cordially invited to visit the Children's Room of the library to see what the library has to offer the children of the community in books, facilities, and services. The library's hours are: Noon to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays.

Ask Sign-Up For Medicare Before Age 65

Persons who plan to sign up for Medicare at age 65 are urged to contact their social security office two or three months early, according to Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba.

By signing early, coverage begins right at the beginning of the 65th birthday month. Williams asked interested persons to contact his office at anytime for more details.

Tickets for the ball will be available at the door the night of the dance, Saturday, Nov. 5 at the Thimmes Memorial Building in Negaunee. ## Boeing To Build Skybolt Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has awarded a $235.8-million development and production contract for an air-to-ground guided missile designed to be carried within 50 miles of enemy defenses.

It's a shorter-range relative to the Skybolt missile, on which the government spent more than $500 million before Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara scrapped the project. He doubted whether Skybolt could be accurate over its planned 1,000-mile route.

The contract, including $93.5 million for production of an unspecified number of missiles, was awarded to Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash. The other $142.3 million is for development.

President Johnson announced plans for the SRAM missile in January 1965. SRAM stands for short range attack missile. He called it a major new development in strategic weaponry.

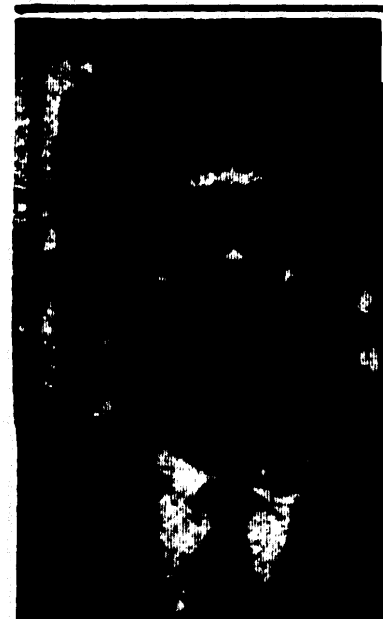

Skybolt was supposed to blow holes in enemy defense lines to create penetration corridors for nuclear bombers.

SRAM, also a ballistic missile but less complicated, would be carried on the FB11, a fighter-bomber due for operation by 1970, the scheduled phase-out date of certain models of the B52 bomber.

The plane could carry as many as 40 SRAMs.

State Apple Growers Fear 5% Loss From Tight Labor Supply

LANSING (AP) — Ohio's weather, Michigan's weather reports and the tight labor market made life difficult for Michigan's apple growers, who may lose 5 percent of their crop because of labor shortages.

Meanwhile, scientists still are trying to develop machines that can handle apples and apple trees as gently as experienced human pickers do.

Still another approach may be to grow smaller trees, and save the time a picker now spends in lugging a ladder around.

Royal Call of the Michigan Farm Bureau estimates that, because pickers weren't available in time, the wind knocked down 5 to 10 per cent more apples than normal this season.

Three Problems

Farmers had their problems last year, too, with losses attributed to labor problems estimated at up to $2 million.

This year, three factors caused problems, said Ray Yeutter of the Michigan Employment Security Commission's Farm Labor Service.

—The economy's general high rate of employment hurt growers who depend entirely on local help and have no housing for migrant workers.

Some reports of Michigan's killing frost last May were greatly exaggerated and, even though the apple crop is of normal size, some migrants who normally come to Michigan stayed away this fall.

Hard To Pin Down

—Ohio's tomato harvest dragged on later than usual, and many migrant workers did not arrive as early as usual, meaning farmers with early maturing varieties had problems.

Exact losses from labor shortages would be hard to pin down, Yeutter said.

"The statewide average might not be too bad," he added, "but if one individual lost a good share of his crop, it would be serious for him."

Any serious troubles, he said, probably would have involved growers with early maturing apples. The labor supply has been pretty good in the last few weeks, he said.

Apples that fall to the ground are not lost. But they generally are bruised and must go into processing—mainly into juice—rather than to grocery store counters.

Work On Machines

How many fallen apples can be reclaimed depends on how long it is before cold weather drives migrant workers to other areas and ruins fruit still left on the ground, Call said.

Scientists still are working on the problem of developing a machine that will pick apples without bruising them too much for fresh market sales.

Not many apple harvesting machines are in use now, Yeutter said, because enough apples fall from natural causes that farmers don't want to shake any more down with machines.

A Cornell University research team is trying out a new type machine with prongs that reach to any part of the tree, and a catching frame placed right around the base of the tree.

Develop Dwarf Trees

The idea is to avoid allowing the falling apples to strike branches on their fall into the catching frame, and to pick apples firm enough for the fresh market.

Besides bruising, another concern of machine designers is whether the machinery will hurt the trees or their limbs when it shakes them.

Agricultural scientists also have been developing dwarf trees, which a man can pick clean without using a ladder. These could provide large savings at harvest time, the scientists say.

A SAWED-OFF SHOTGUN, mounted on a tree, was found cocked and baited with an apple in a wooded area northeast of Calumet. The rigged weapon was found by a hunter and turned over to Conservation Officer Arnold Koro (above) who demonstrated how the slightest tug on the apple causes the gun to fire, whether the fruit is reached for by a deer—or a child. The gun was loaded with double ought buckshot. (AP Wirephoto)

Glynn Resigns As Manager Of Ironwood C-C

Directors of the Ironwood Chamber of Commerce have accepted the resignation of Russell Glynn as secretary-manager.

Glynn announced the purchase of seasonal rental apartments in Naples, Florida, and will assume operations in December.

Glynn stated, "I leave the Ironwood Chamber of Commerce with a sense of pride for the accomplishments of the Chamber in recent years. With the decline of the iron mining industry facing the Ironwood area, the Chamber spent considerable effort to develop summer and winter recreation to replace this loss to the range economy."

"The development of Indian Head Mountain, and later Big Power Horn Mountain, and recently the promotion and financing of Copper Peak are of pride importance. The purchase and advertising of the Hiawatha statue and the 'Flower Box City of the North' promotion has boosted the economic life of this area."

"Mrs. Glynn and I will continue to operate Glynn's Bear Track Inn at Black River Harbor, returning to Ironwood in April. Mrs. Eleanor Tremaine will be in charge of the Chamber of Commerce office until my successor is named."

Medicare Patient Refused Service By City Ambulance

Mrs. Teckla Swanson, 65, is listed in poor condition at St. Francis Hospital today, where she was taken Monday evening in a station wagon after City Ambulance refused to respond to a call to transport her to the hospital.

James Schwalbach, owner of City Ambulance, said today he refused the call because he has "been getting stuck with too many Medicare patients."

Mrs. Swanson, who resides on the North Bay Shore in Escanaba, suffered a heart attack about 4:45 p.m. Monday.

Roy Groenick, a neighbor, telephoned Escanaba police at 4:58 and advised the officers that he had called City Ambulance.

ance and he had been refused service to pick up Mrs. Swanson. Police said Schwalbach told him to call the city police.

The police telephoned Schwalbach, their report shows, and they were told by Schwalbach that "the subject (Mrs. Swanson) was under Medicare and he wasn't hauling any Medicare patients as it was too much work to collect his money."

Firemen Aided

Officers then telephoned the office of an Escanaba physician and asked they request the ambulance service for the patient. The calls were made "with negative results," the police were told.

The police officer at the Swanson home requested the aid of the firemen, who gave the patient oxygen because she had difficulty in breathing.

No ambulance being available, the police obtained the loan of a station wagon to transport the woman to the hospital. "It was decided that to try and take the subject to the hospital in the patrol vehicle would likely kill her," the police reported.

Schwalbach said in statement to the Daily Press today: "I have been getting stuck with too many Medicare patients. There is so much paper work that I almost have to hire a secretary. Every time I make a pickup, I don't know if he's a Medicare patient and a good share of the people pay me right away."

Tight Budget

"On Medicare, however, to collect I first have to get a statement from the doctor showing that ambulance services were necessary, then I have to get the patient to sign and then I have to send the forms to Medicare."

"Medicare pays 80 per cent and a local call is $20 so I get a check for $16. To collect the rest of the bill, then I need another statement from the doctor and the patient and have to send in more forms. It often goes three or four months before I get paid."

He said that he often does not know who the doctor is and has to check that out. Patients are sometimes transferred and he must travel around the Upper Peninsula to get signatures, Schwalbach added.

Schwalbach has appealed in the past to the Delta County Board of Supervisors and to the Escanaba City Council for financial help. Last year he received a Small Business Administration loan to purchase modern equipment.

He said he operates the service on a "tight budget" and cannot afford to carry Medicare patients on the books for several months.

'Lani Bird' Is To Be Replaced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Scientists will try again this month to establish commercial communications via satellite over the Pacific Ocean—a job the Lani Bird satellite failed to accomplish.

Instead of settling into a hovering orbit above the mid-Pacific Gilbert islands, the "Lani Bird" stayed in a cigar-shaped orbit ranging from 1,840 miles above the earth to about 23,000 miles.

Its communications system still works, but it is useful only for short periods when it whirles into line of sight of earth stations.

A kick motor fired Sunday was supposed to boost the satellite into the proper orbit—but it didn't.

Lokers, also at home at the time of the explosion, was uninjured. Mrs. Lokers was in good condition today.

Bail Set High For Minutemen

NEW YORK (AP)—Bail totaling $81,000 has been set by a Queens Criminal Court judge for 19 men accused of plotting to blow up three private camps.

Tons of weapons and ammunition were seized along with the men—identified by officials as members of the Minutemen, a right-wing organization which trains its members in guerrilla warfare—in a series of pre-dawn raids Sunday.

At their arraignment Monday on charges of conspiracy to commit arson, Prosecutor Howard Cerny asked for high bail because "these people were acting in utter disregard for the lives of their neighbors."

Defense attorney F. Courts Bouse labeled the arrests "an election gimmick" but Cerny denied the charge. Queens Dist. Atty. Nat H. Hentel, an appointee of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, is seeking election to a full term next Tuesday.

Cerny told Judge Bernard Dubin that the mass of evidence and the number of defendants precluded an immediate trial. Hearings were set for Nov. 22.

November Brings Snow To State

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Turning the calendar page from October to November was just about synonymous with turning from fall to winter in many parts of western Michigan today.

The season's first snow—ranging from a trace to about an inch—was reported throughout the western Lower Peninsula.

Mears, in Oceana County, reported an inch of snow on the ground and Grand Rapids had several hours of flurries.

Temperatures fell to record lows in the 20s in many areas, with a low of 20 snapping a 71-year mark in Grand Rapids.

William Chasse, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist, said an extremely cold air mass from Canada probably would bring more snow through Wednesday.

Third Victim Of Slayer Now Dead

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Robert W. Sims is dead, the third victim of a slayer who invaded her home 10 days ago.

Her husband and their young daughter, Joy, 12, died the night of the shooting. The oldest daughter, Norma, 16, found the three tied in a bedroom. Each had been shot. The girl had also been stabbed seven times.

Police continued their investigation, and said they had found no apparent motive.

Its communications system still works, but it is useful only for short periods when it whirles into line of sight of earth stations.

A kick motor fired Sunday was supposed to boost the satellite into the proper orbit—but it didn't.

Hostesses for the social hour to follow the program will be the Mesdames Herman Gunderson, Albin Hanson, Harold Olson and John Wicklander.

A sale of home-baked items will be held during the social hour. This meeting is open to members and friends.

Christmas Stamp Is Issued At Christmas

CHRISTMAS (AP)—Soon, 50,000 persons or more will know about the village of Christmas. It's a tiny community of 75 persons on the Lake Superior shoreline of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, near Munising.

And, because it bears the name of Christmas, the U. S. Post Office has chosen the sleepy little town as the place where the 1966 Christmas stamp will be issued.

Frederick C. Belen, deputy postmaster general, is issuing the stamp in formal ceremonies today at Christmas.

This year, Christmas has its first postmaster—Pauline Burness. The office is located in her gift shop in a one-time handroom.

Mrs. Burness and her staff will be cancelling more than 50,000 first-day covers—special envelopes mailed with the Christmas stamp on its first day of issue.

The stamp collectors and others who will receive those covers will know that they came from Christmas.

Appropriately, snow fell at Christmas today.

The special stamp reproduces a portion of the painting, "Madonna and Child with Angels," by the 15th Century Flemish artist Hans Memling. Five different colors of ink are used to reproduce the painting.

Belen said the stamps will go on sale throughout the nation Wednesday. He said more than a billion of the stamps are being printed.

Belen today was presented the Michigan Minuteman Award for "great loyalty and distinguished service to his home state." The deputy postmaster general is a Michigan college graduate.

In honor of the stamp ceremonies at Christmas, the Munising High School Band plays today, a luncheon was scheduled and officials came from all sections of the state.

W. H. Treloar, publisher of Panax Corp. newspapers in three Upper Michigan cities, was master of ceremonies.

Canadian Vessel Grounds In River South Of Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—A commercial tug attempted today to free the 446-foot cargo vessel Halifax from the spot where it ran aground Monday in the St. Marys River.

The Halifax, carrying 11,145 tons of potash from Fort Arthur, Ont., to Oswego, N. Y., ran onto a shoal off Pipe Island 80 miles south of Sault Ste. Marie.

No danger to its crew of 30 was reported, but the vessel's hull was split open and one hold was flooded.

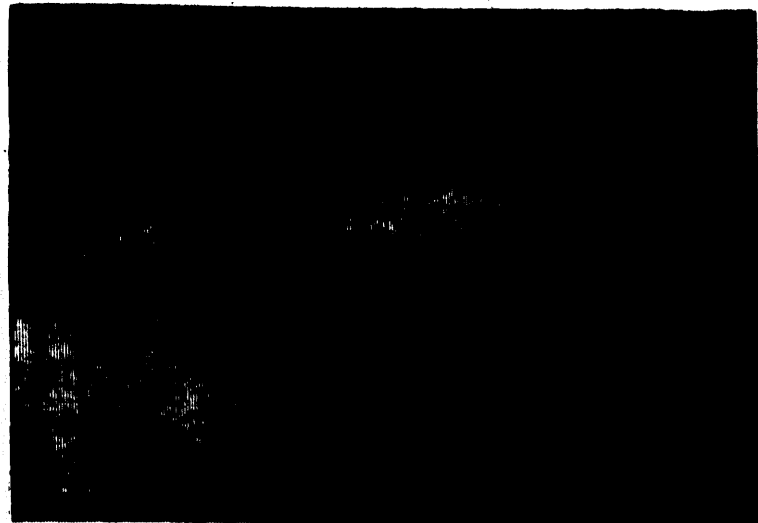

It is owned by Hall Corp. of Canada.

Lake Michigan Cohos Grow More Rapidly

Coho salmon planted in Lake Michigan are growing about three times faster than those planted in Lake Superior, Clyde Lambert said Monday in a program on conservation of fish's duties.

Coldness of Lake Superior water and lack of alewife in it are factors in the slower Lake Superior growth, which was anticipated when plantings were made, he said.

Prospects for the deer season were rated on a par with last year, with enough deer for the same success ratio. Present bow and arrow and other seasons have been good, he stated.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The greatest number of Communist splinter groups ever gathered met today in Tirana where Albania's Communist party opened its first congress since the 1961 breakaway from Moscow.

Radio Tirana said 27 delegations have arrived. Most of them were pro-Chinese Communist groups from Western Europe.

Communist China sent a delegation headed by Politbureau member Kang Sheng. The Romanian delegation was led by executive member Constantin Dragan.

Cuba, North Viet Nam and North Korea are also represented, as well as the Communist party of South Viet Nam.

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

Unexpected hero of Marinette's 31-0 victory over Menominee was halfback Don Jorgenson who had hardly seen any action previously this season. The 165 pound junior stunned the Maroons by gaining 158 yards in 26 carries and catching three passes for 111 yards and a touchdown. When Marinette defeated Escanaba, 36-6, three weeks ago Jorgenson caught two passes good for 19 yards and gained five yards in one carry.

St. Ignace wound up with the best Upper Peninsula high school football record this fall as Coach Jerry Gallagher's Saints blanked downstate Onaway, 29-0. That gave St. Ignace an 8-1 mark and 22 victories in 23 starts for the last three years. Fullback Ken Brown scored his seventh touchdown of the season and boosted his rushing total to 976 yards in the finale.

Rudy Steiner, junior quarterback, accounted for all his team's points as Iron Mountain scored a 13-6 victory over Kingsford. Steiner tallied on two runs of five yards and connected on seven of 20 passes for 137 yards. The victory gave Iron Mountain a tie for the Menominee Range Conference crown with Iron River as both teams fashioned 3-1 records. The Mountaineers finished fourth in the Great Northern race with a 2-3 mark.

Sault Ste. Marie closed out a successful season Friday night with a 21-6 verdict over downstate Alpena, scoring three touchdowns in the final period. Fullback Arlen Bell hit paydirt on a 36 yard run and gained 169 yards in 14 trips. He boosted his season total to 710 yards in 117 carries. The Blue Devils lost their season opener to Negaunee, 21-13, and then reeled off six victories and two ties.

Coach Don Pfothner of Gladstone was pleased with the performance of his protegee at the University of Wisconsin as the Badgers gave Michigan a battle before bowing, 28-17. Pfothner traveled to Madison to see the game and visited with the 6 foot 2 inch, 234 pound junior tackle following the contest. Domres was credited with 11 tackles, one of which caused a Michigan fumble.

Coach Bill Earle's Munising Mustangs edged Stambaugh, 15-16, in a season finale on the Hilltopper field as quarterback Tom Gattis pitched two touchdown passes to Mike McNally and scored the third himself. Coach Don McDonald's Stambaugh team drove to the Munising 33 with seconds left in the game and attempted a field goal which fell short of the cross bar.

The Stephenson Eagles closed out a frustrating season by playing Norway to a 6-6 deadlock. Mark Dougovito scored Stephenson's touchdown on a five yard run in the second period after Dave Solda had tallied for Norway on a 30 yard scamper in the opening quarter. Stephenson drove to the Norway one yard line in the closing seconds of the game but couldn't reach paydirt.

Cards Crack Bears, Take First Place

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two mighty defensive units dominated Monday night's National Football League game between St. Louis and the Chicago Bears, and the difference was Larry Wilson, a 190-pound defensive safety for the Cardinals.

Wilson intercepted three passes, including one that he returned for a touchdown, as St. Louis moved back into first place in the Eastern Conference with a hard-fought 24-17 victory over the Bears.

St. Louis regained the lead in the Eastern Conference as result of the victory. The Cards are 6-1-1, just ahead of Dallas, 5-1-1. Chicago, a member of the Western Conference, is 3-4.

John Roland bulled over from the three for two first-quarter touchdowns to give St. Louis a quick two-touchdown margin.

Rudy Bukich's sneak and his 80-yard pass play to Gale Sayers enabled Chicago to keep a touchdown of the Cardinals.

Jim Bakken of St. Louis and Roger Leclerc of the Bears booted field goals of 40 and 16 yards, respectively, to complete the scoring.

Wilson sat quietly in the dressing room after the game and had little to say about his performance. However, his coach, Charley Winner, did the talking.

"He's played great football all year," Winner said. "I don't think he's capable of playing a bad game."

Winner said the Cardinals switched Wilson, a seven-year veteran from Utah, around at times. "You can't expect to do the same things you've been doing and beat (Chicago Coach) George Halas."

Halas praised Wilson's play, terming him one of the game's best defensive players ever.

Chicago picked up 282 yards passing and rushing while St. Louis could muster only 166 against the Bears. Charley Johnson, the St. Louis quarterback, hit only four of 16 passes for 47 yards while Bukich connected on 13 of 26 for 173 yards.

Ullman Shares Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit and New York have managed only three victories between them so far this season, but a look at the National Hockey League's scoring figures shows seven Red Wings and Rangers bunched among the top ten individual scorers.

Figures released by the NHL today show only Chicago's Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull and Montreal's Bobby Rousseau breaking the Detroit-New York dominance.

Mikita shares the lead with Detroit's Norm Ullman. Each has scored 11 points, Mikita on three goals and eight assists and Ullman on one goal and 10 assists.

Paul Henderson, Detroit's right-handed shooting left wing, scored six goals in two games last week and shot into third place with 8-9. Henderson also leads the league in goals.

New York's Phil Goyette is fourth with eight points — all on assists. Hull, with four goals and three assists is fifth.

Five players are tied with six points each. Donnie Marshall of the Rangers has 4-2-6 while teammate Rod Gilbert and Rousseau show 3-3-6. Andy Beath of the Red Wings has two goals, four assists and Detroit's Floyd Smith shows a 1-5-6 slate.

St. Ignace Has Best Record

Last Unbeaten Team Falls In U.P. Football Circles

The last of the Upper Peninsula's undefeated football teams fell by the wayside in the final weekend of the season as Menominee took a 32-0 lambasting from its ancient M&M rival Marinette.

Coach Ken Hofer's Great Northern Conference champs carried a record of seven victories and a tie into their season finale. The triumph was only the second of the campaign for the Marines who bump their heads against a steady wall of rugged Wisconsin schools.

Coach Jerry Gallagher's St. Ignace Saints finished with the best record among U.P. schools winning eight of nine starts. Besides Menominee, Calumet was the only other U.P. team that suffered a lone setback this season. The Copper Kings bowed to Ironwood. The single defeat sustained by St. Ignace came at the hands of Alpena Catholic Central, 6-0.

The top scoring team in the Upper Peninsula this fall was DeTour of the Eastern Conference with 208 points, one more than Menominee. L'Anse had the best defensive record, limiting eight foes to 31 points.

Battle Creek Keeps Rating

Battle Creek Central proved its No. 1 rating in Class A of the Michigan Associated Press high school basketball poll last week by beating second-ranked Ann Arbor 26-13.

Ann Arbor fell to a tie for fifth in the vote by sportswriters and sportscasters around Michigan. Buchanan and Frankenmuth remained 1-2 in Class B and Middleville stayed atop of Class C-D. Galesburg-Augusta moved into a tie with Ubly for second, however.

Detroit Denby, third last week, took over second in Class A after beating Detroit Kettering 62-7. Royal Oak Dondro jumped from fifth to third after beating Monroe 18-7.

Grand Rapids Central took fourth after beating Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills and climbing from sixth. Muskegon, fourth last week, tied Holland 7-7 and dropped into a tie with Ann Arbor.

Saginaw Buena Vista held third in Class B. Fenton, sixth last week, took fourth and Dundee remained fifth.

Buchanan smashed Stevensville Lakeshore 47-0 last week and Middleville downed Lowell 26-13.

Soph Fullback Has Great Start With Boston Patriots This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance, Boston's sensational sophomore fullback, suddenly has jumped into range of three American Football League rushing records.

Nance, who gained 204 yards in 26 carries as the Patriots took over the lead in the Eastern Division with a 24-13 victory over Oakland, reached the halfway mark of the season in this situation:

Rushing — 753 yards gained compared with the record of 1,121 set by San Diego's Paul Lowe last year.

Touchdowns scored rushing — Seven scored compared with the 12 huffed across in 1965 by both Cookie Kilbrist and Abner passed for 343 yards — and five interceptions.

Most rushes — 163 attempts compared with the record of 232 set by Gilchrist last year.

Quote of the Week: That award also goes to Nance, who midway in the third quarter was roughed up and came off the field as the defense went on, moving his left shoulder around as if it bothered him.

"Hurt?" asked Tom Hewie. "A little bit," said Nance, "but I've still got the other one."

High, Low: Joe Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback, hit two career highs in a 23-23 loss to Buffalo. No

BART STARR, Green Bay Packer quarterback, attempts run after slipping to the ground in the third quarter of Sunday's game against Detroit. He is about to be caught from behind by Roger Brown (76) for a loss of four yards. (AP Wirephoto)

Potent Packer Duo Waits For Chance To Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski still are only spear-carriers in the Green Bay Packer cast, which Vince Lombardi admits "eventually will be a fine team."

The $1-million bonus babies, who joined the Packers as rookies after the College All-Star Game last August, get into the ball games in the late stages when they are already won or lost. They do make their presence known when they get a shot.

Only in the Atlanta game, a 56-3 rout, did Coach Lombardi give the rookies much of a chance to shine. Donny, the flashy halfback from Texas Tech, carried five times for 15 yards against the Falcons and scored a touchdown on a five-yard run.

He also flashed some of that $600,000 class by returning a punt 77 yards for another TD. To round out the day, Donny also kicked two punts averaging 44.5 yards.

Grabowski came out of that Atlanta game, Oct. 23, as the leading rusher with 52 yards on seven trips, including a 26-yard scamper.

It was after this game that regular fullback Jim Taylor revealed he still was unsigned and was playing out his option with the Packers.

The season totals for Anderson show total yardage of 388 with 32 on carries, 19 on two pass receptions, 78 on two punt runbacks and 239 on 10 kickoff returns.

When Paul Hornung was unable to play against the Lions Sunday due to a pinched nerve, Lombardi went to the veteran

Denny Steele Back Of Week

By The Associated Press
Denny Steele of Kalamazoo College did everything but win the game singlehandedly in winning honors as MIAA Back of the Week.

Steele, a senior halfback, scored all four Kalamazoo touchdowns as his school lost to Hope, 48-29.

He picked up 159 yards in 15 carries from scrimmage, including touchdown runs of 48 and 24 yards. He caught two for 105 yards, including one reception for 179 yards and a touchdown.

Steele ran back one kickoff 89 yards for a score.

Keith Bird of Alma was named MIAA Lineman of the Week. The defensive end recovered an Adrian fumble and made eight tackles in the Alma victory over Adrian.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Nebraska Gains In Grid Ratings

By The Associated Press
Nebraska's convincing 35-0 victory over Missouri enabled the unbeaten Cornhuskers to move into sixth place in the Associated Press major-college football poll today.

Georgia Tech and Arkansas also gained ground while Notre Dame maintained a solid first-place margin over runner-up Michigan State.

Southern California, upset by Miami of Florida, tumbled four places to ninth, and Tennessee climbed into the Top Ten, replacing Wyoming.

Notre Dame, undefeated in six games and 475 points in the latest balloting by a national panel of 49 sports writers and broadcasters, the Irish trampled Navy 31-7 last Saturday.

Michigan State held the No. 2 position with 437 points, including 60 for six first-place votes. The Spartans blanked Northwestern 24-0 for their seventh victory without a defeat.

UCLA and Alabama held third and fourth places, respectively, the Bruins with 366 points and the Tide with 347. Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

Is Gilmer Washed Up As Coach Of Lions?

DETROIT (AP) — Is Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer's neck under the axe?

According to fans of the National Football League, he's on his way out. As Green Bay whipped the Lions 31-7 here Sunday, they were singing, "Goodbye, Harry, we're going to see you gone."

Signs appeared in the stands saying "Bye, bye, Harry." A couple of them were well made, not something scratched out at halftime.

But the man who owns the club, Bill Ford, was quite emphatic when he said, "We're going to keep him." For Ford, it's the same time he sang earlier this year it became apparent that the Lions were in trouble.

Gilmer, who has a three-year contract running through 1967, said, "I didn't see the signs and the singing was very poor."

But the Lions have lost five straight games and are 2-6 in the NFL's Western Division.

It's their longest losing streak in 11 years, since they dropped six straight in 1955. And it could easily go to six against the Chicago Bears this week.

Ford says Gilmer offered earlier to quit if that was Ford's wish. But Ford apparently wants Gilmer to stay.

Of course, if Gilmer were fired tomorrow, he wouldn't be the first sports figure to go right after getting a vote of confidence. But there are no whippers around where it counts that Gilmer is on the skids.

Of the booing and singing, Ford said, "Bobby Layne got that here, too. It's part of the game. We're 2-6. You can't expect anything else."

Despite the recent addition of a passing offense with rookie Karl Sweetan at quarterback in place of the injured Milt Plum, the Lions have played poorly. Time after time their drives have been blunted by interceptions, fumbles and penalties.

The Packers picked off three Detroit passes Sunday, recovered a Lion fumble and turned them into three touchdowns and a field goal.

"We had two opportunities early when we were still in the game and we blew them," Gilmer said, "one with a fumble, one with a penalty."

Gilmer is doing his best to ignore criticism from players and fans. He's made wholesale changes in the Lions, letting many veterans go in exchange for youth. But it's hard to tell when, if ever, the moves will bear fruit.

Meanwhile, the fans wait, and the Lions face six more NFL games.

Duffy Offers Playoff Plan

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A post-season college football playoff, proposed Monday by Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty, received preliminary approval today from Walter Byers, executive secretary of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Daugherty's proposal called for elimination of the traditional New Year's Day bowl games in favor of an eight-team playoff between the champions of six major college conferences and two leading independents.

"I don't see any reason why college football cannot follow the same national collegiate playoff pattern as all other intercollegiate sports enjoy," said Byers, spokesman for the ruling body of intercollegiate athletics.

Daugherty said his plan, which he said had the approval of some fellow coaches and Notre Dame, would call for a playoff among the Big Ten, the Big Eight, Southwest, Southeastern, Pacific Coast and Atlantic Coast conferences, plus two at-large teams.

His main points were that it would provide — once and for all — an undisputed national collegiate football champion among major colleges and would produce a financial bonanza for NCAA members from television receipts.

The plan is not new. Bud Wilkinson, the former Oklahoma coach, has plugged for such a playoff as have others.

Bark River-Harris will host the banquet as co-champion of the conference with Powers-Spaulding.

The all-conference team, selected by coaches, will be announced by Nick Dalsanto, Pembine, league president.

Commercial Tests Show

U.P. Can Grow Cranberries

NEWBERRY — Sample plots of cranberries grown near here indicate that the Upper Peninsula can produce the berries in commercial quantities, according to Cooperative Extension Service agents who conducted the experiment.

Yields equal to as much as 14,600 pounds per acre were reported taken from the small test plots. Karl Larson, Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac county agricultural agent, said yields of 8,000 to 10,000 pounds per acre are considered economically productive.

Michigan has no commercial cranberry industry at present, and Larson estimates that there is about 50,000 acres of land in Luce County potentially productive in the lucrative crop.

The going price for cranberries is about 15 cents a pound. With a 10,000-pound yield, an acre of cranberries could produce a gross annual income of $1,500.

The biggest obstacle to opening new cranberry plots is the initial investment required — about $4,000 an acre. After de-

Plan Protest

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The American Council of Christian Churches plans a protest meeting at Miami Beach, Fla., if Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey speaks before the National Council of Churches there Dec. 1 as scheduled.

The council said in a resolution adopted at its 25th annual meeting that his speech to the church group would involve "a serious violation of the principles upon which our religious liberty stands."

velopment, annual maintenance costs run about $700 an acre. One of the biggest expenses is irrigation equipment to protect the berries from frost damage.

It takes three years from planting before the first crop can be harvested. After that, the plants bear every year.

No commercial development is under way at present, but Larson said two large cranberry processing companies have expressed interest in the experiments.

Others who worked on the plots are Extension workers James Neal of Newberry and Ray B. Gummerson and Donald Thurlow of Marquette.

Another Union Joins In Toledo's Newspaper Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A third union joined a week-old strike Monday against the Toledo Blade Publishing Co.

Members of the Stereotypers Union joined a picket line set up by members of International Typographical Union and American Newspaper Guild earlier. The strike, which started when the printers walked out last Monday night, has halted publication of the Toledo Blade and Morning Toledo Times, with a combined circulation of 211,000.

Four other unions do not have contracts with the company but are not officially on strike. They are continuing negotiations.

There are nearly 40 million bicycles in use on U. S. roads.

New Law Aid To Dying Lakes

LANSING (AP) — Lakeshore property owners have new weapons today in their fight to preserve dying lakes.

Gov. George Romney has signed into law a bill providing "more effective statutory procedures governing inland lake management, lake level control and lake cleanup."

The measure, which takes effect immediately, authorizes the levying of special assessments for dredging and improvement. It also authorizes the establishment of local lake boards.

The bill does what a 1961 act was intended to do — "except that it (1961 act) was set up in such a way that it was unworkable," said bill sponsor W. Scott Ensign, D-Battle Creek.

Under the bill, a lake association can petition the county to establish a lake board. The county would be required to act within a reasonable length of time, approving or rejecting the petition.

If established, the board would include one member representing the benefiting property owners, the county drain or road commissioner, one member of the county board of supervisors and one representative of the government of the township or city in which the lake was located.

The board would have authority to issue bonds of up to 30 years maturity, backed by the full faith and credit of the county, to finance the lake improvements.

The measure also permits the State Conservation Department to intervene in any public inland lake improvement project "to protect and conserve Michigan's natural resources," Romney said.
